

July 16 Scale Aerotow Report — by Martin Baumer

The July Aerotow at the Molalla field started with low clouds and a little drizzle, just enough for Richard to make it a drive-by instead of unpacking his airplanes. That left Mike as the only sailplane pilot. At around 11am the clouds lifted and by noon we had awesome thermals. There was one that had at least a dozen vultures in it. It was quite a sight.

Next up is the August 19-21 scale aerotow at Gillette Field. Two of the previous event tug pilots have committed and the aerotow is at a new field with a 60 x 3500 ft grass runway and 360 degrees of unobstructed soaring sky! Looking forward to PASS members coming out to fly and to check out the field.
